

CONVERSATION BETWEEN LIGHT AND TIME AT THE BEGINNING OF THE UNIVERSE

Time: Hi Light!

Light: What's up Time?

Time: Oh, nothing just passing the time, fixing the dates. What do you think about July as a month?

Light: I think it's great

Time: Do you?

Light: Yeah. But it might never catch on.

Time: What are you doing?

Light: Oh you know just creating the universe. Nothing major. I'm working on the Milky Way. Flippin heck!

Time: What's up?

Light: It's my boss he just rang up and told me some of my constellations aren't up to scratch.

Time: Never mind, just lighten up.

Light: Cheers. I've got to tick off.
